Dr. Alixe Hambleton Bursary Recipient

Spring 2009

Tracy Woodward – Recipient of the Dr.Alix Hambleton Bursary

Tracy Woodward is the recipient of the Dr. Alixe Hambleton Bursary. Ms. Woodward is currently employed as a teacher-librarian at Delisle Composite School in the Prairie Spirit School Division, a position she has maintained for the past five years.

Due to her excellent communication skills, Ms. Woodward is extremely popular with the students and also with the school community. The vibrant Delisle Library Club, numerous requests for resource suggestions from the students and staff, and the numerous collaborative projects with colleagues attest to her competence.

In a relentless pursuit to improve student learning and satisfaction, Ms. Woodward constantly challenges herself to embark on unique experiences for students to attain a deeper understanding of content material. Her infectious zeal and apt ability has resulted in many successful literacy projects.

Ms. Woodward is an intelligent and motivated individual. As a dedicated and determined person, Ms. Woodward demonstrates an intense commitment to furthering her education. Despite obstacles, both financial and health-related, she has persevered in her pursuit of the attainment of her Masters of Education in Teacher-Librarianship through the University of Alberta's Teacher-Librarian Distance Education Program.

Bright, dedicated and skilled, Ms. Woodward garners my unequivocal recommendation to be the 2009 recipient of the Dr.Alix Hambleton Bursary
